Jim Hardy, Superintendent—President of West Valley Joint Community College District, is doing a guest shot at being "out on a limb" this week.

By James P. Hardy

George asked me to write the last of three guest "Out On A Limb" columns while he is on vacation and I jumped at the chance. Now it's possible for me to tell the inside on George instead of having him tell all about West Valley College.

The relationship between the college and George is a strong one. In fact he's an invaluable member of our Citizens Advisory Committee, which just recently completed a study of our Ten Year Master Plan. This group of 43 community residents, after six months of study, came up with a 19-page report outlining guidelines for our governing board to follow in the years ahead.

One of the more immediate concerns of the committee was the statewide community college construction bond measure which will appear on November's general election ballot. The committee noted that failure of this bond election "would immediately stop all future construction programs at West Valley College, and would, for an indefinite time, prohibit any additional projects."

Another area discussed by the committee was the future of the Campbell site. This is one of our concerns and I know for a fact that it's one of George's. In fact the first question George invariably askes me each time we meet is "What's happening with the Campbell site?" He even calls me at home on Sunday morning to see if I have an answer to that question. The only answer is: the governing board included funds for purchase of this site in the 1970 bond measure which was defeated. The board hasn't changed its position since. The next local bond measure must be held in 1974 and the Citizens' Committee believes that it could be successful. That's our hope here at West Valley as well as the committee's hope.

THERE CAN'T BE ANY doubt that George is a staunch supporter of the college, although sometimes I think he goes too far. Now really George, did you think the college was that much in need of publicity last year when you had your car stolen? The biggest instance of campus unrest since I became president occurred when, after a meeting of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, George went out to our parking lot at Saratoga to find his little VW gone. All I can say is that it's a good thing those thieves stole that little bug of yours and stripped it before it fell apart. I know what they must have done with the engine and tires, but really George, what in the world did the thieves do with all those old Campbell Presses sticking up from the upholstery?

GEORGE IS A STRONG advocate of many of the programs offered at West Valley—particularly our food services program. I must say George always seems to appear when food services is putting on one of its culinary delights.

And we at West Valley take that as quite a compliment since George is a member of the gourmet club.

George also compliments many of our other fine programs at West Valley, even though as far as our records show he has never taken a class here.

George, however, is concerned with physical fitness.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

New Bascom Ave. policy goes to City Council

Adoption of the "Bascom Avenue Policy" as recommended by the Planning Commission is expected to take place at the City Council meeting next Monday, July 24.

The policy, which was adopted by the Planning Commission, in cooperation with a study made by the Chamber of Commerce, specifies that commercial uses may be permitted for a general depth of 300-feet only when such developments front to Bascom Ave.

In addition the policy pinpoints four basic conditions that must be adhered to in any development. Rezoning, for example, must not be just for land speculative purposes; development of large parcels will be encouraged instead of small ones; and the Council and Planning Commission will exercise rigid control over the design, etc., of any proposed development.

The Council next Monday is also scheduled to call for bids for three sedans that are to be assigned to the city manager, fire department and police department.

An agreement with the California Dental Service which is to provide dental care for city employees under a new fringe benefit that has been approved is also expected to be authorized at the meeting.

A request for another taxi service in the city will also be before the City Council. Allen Bloomquist, of Golden State Taxi Co., is seeking council approval to operate four cabs within the city limits. Two other taxi firms, Mission and United-GI, are now operating in town.

On the agenda also are a number of zone change requests and subdivision maps that have already received prior Planning Commission approval including the 83-lot development submitted by Dura Style Homes for the Amato property.

The appeal of Fred Sahadi, developer of the PruneYard, of the denial by the Planning Commission of a free-standing 58-foot high pole sign is on the council's agenda but expected to be continued at the request of the applicant who has been called out of town.

The Council is also expected to approve the allocation of $5000 to the Chamber of Commerce. A total of $10,000 has been budgeted by the city for CofC activities. The CofC is requesting that $5000 of the total be made available now.

Police Chief Don Burr is scheduled to make a report to the council on plans for publicizing the bicycle safety program that his department is planning for the future that will culminate in a crackdown on traffic violations by bicyclists.

LIBRARY STEP

City, Chamber of Commerce and school officials are expected to be in attendance at a county supervisors' special session concerning the county library budget this Friday, July 21 at 1:30 p.m.

What action the supervisors take on the proposed budget could have a direct bearing on the time table for the construction of the new library in Campbell, which is to be built by the city and then leased to the county library district, according to City Manager Bob Stephens.

"CAROUSEL'S" PARASOL--Robbi Thornburg in a scene from the Campbell Union High School District production of "Carousel," opening on July 26 at 8 p.m. in the Campbell High auditorium. Robbi plays Nettie Fowler in the local production.

LEAD ROLE---Tom Gabbard of Campbell High School has the lead of Billy Bigelow in the CUHSD production of "Carousel." More than 200 students from throughout the district have worked on the play since June 1.

TOO HOT TO STAY AROUND---When the temperature sign on the First National Bank at Winchester and Budd started to soar last Friday afternoon, our photographer waited as long as he could...But if the thermometer got any higher, he didn't stay around to find out...

Needless to say, some kind of a record was set, for ice consumption, if nothing else. The four-day record heat wave, fortunately, broke on Saturday -- otherwise -- who knows?

IN CAMPBELL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Vote Tuesday to decide tax issue

Voters in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will go to the polls next Tuesday (July 25) to decide whether the current general purpose tax rate of $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation, adopted 10 years ago, should be continued for another five years.

On February 29, the voters rejected a tax increase of 50-cents, which would have brought the rate up to $3.05. If the current rate is not approved by the electorate next Tuesday, the rate will revert to $1.80.

District officials estimate that the district will lose $1.4 million in revenue, if the $1.80 goes into effect.

All five of the trustees of the district, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, Ralph Steinberg, Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong and Dr. Robert L. King, in a joint appeal to the citizens have emphasized that the district faces a severe financial crisis and that, if the voters, fail to approve the continuation, the effect on the educational program will be "disastrous."

Should the issue fail to pass, the trustees maintain that class sizes will have to be increased; 50 teaching positions will be eliminated; bus transportation will be drastically cut; instrumental music will be eliminated in grades 4, 5 and 6; school librarians will be eliminated; and maintenance of school buildings will be cut.

The trustees claim also that even with the continuation of the present general purpose tax rate, it will be necessary to institute economies of one-half million dollars for the 1972-73 school year to balance the budget and offset inflation.

Opponents to the tax continuation, in their arguments presented in the sample ballot, claimed that the property tax assessments in the school district has increased tremendously during the past few years which they maintain should eliminate the need for higher taxes.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

The tax continuation election for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District is being held in conjunction with the special election for a member of the governing board of West Valley College to fill a vacancy that now exists on that body.

Five seek board post on Tuesday

Five candidates next Tuesday, July 25, are seeking the one position that is open on the governing board of West Valley Joint Community College District created by the resignation of Edward Panelli on March 1, when he was appointed Superior Court Judge.

Judge Panelli represented the Los Gatos-Saratoga sector on the governing board of the college. Thus his replacement must also reside in that area. However, all the voters in the sprawling college district which takes in the Campbell, Santa Clara and Los Gatos high school districts, are eligible to vote in the election.

However, the largest turnout of voters is expected to be in the Campbell Union (elementary) District because of the tax continuation issue that appears on the same ballot.

Seeking election are Wil-

BY 4 TO 2 VOTE

Apartment complex gains Commission approval

Plans for a 234-unit apartment complex to be located on the southeast corner of Budd Avenue and the San Tomas Expressway won approval of the Planning Commission by a 4-2 vote Monday night.

The approval came after it was reported that the applicant, Variant Investments, Inc., had agreed to modify some of the elevations to improve the design of the buildings facing the streets.

Casting negative votes were Commissioners Milt Howe and Bob Stewart who indicated they felt that the 9.8 acre parcel across from Rincon Park could be developed in a better manner.

Voting for approval were Chairman Dale Scott and Commissioners Myron Alexander, Don Hebard and Oleg Lubeckis. Commissioner Carl Larson was absent.

The commissioners unanimously approved plans for a 77-unit apartment complex to be located at 481 and 501 Hacienda Ave., submitted by Byrnes and Errico. They continued until August 7 action on the application of Lincoln Property Co. for a 264-unit apartment complex at 265 and 275 N. Union Ave., on the Stojanovich property recently annexed to the city.

The plans call for 11 residential buildings and a club house. The property is bounded on the north by the Cardiff Affair and on the south by the driveway to Paseo de Palomas mobile home park. Highway 17 is on the west.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Continued again was the application of Bethel Church for a 130-unit apartment complex to be located off El Patio that is planned mainly for senior citizens.

Planning commissioners have expressed concern over the access problem for the development which puts traffic onto El Patio, a minor residential street. It was reported, however, that attempting to provide access across the railroad tracks to Salmar was a complicated undertaking because of the attitude of Southern Pacific on such matters.

Representatives of the West Valley Progressive Senior Citizens also protested any development for senior citizens that was classified as high-rise. They suggested that landscaped triplexes met the needs of the senior citizens rather than multi-story structures.

By a 5-1 vote (Commissioner Howe dissenting), the Commission approved the use permit for E. R. Nolen who desires to construct a single-family residence at 313 Grant Ave., across from the city hall. However, action on the plans for the proposed residence on the sub-standard lot was continued for 30 days.

The property is located in the civic center zoning district and, it was pointed out, that a house could be built on a parcel less than the minimum 6000 square feet, if approved by the city. Howe argued, however, that the use permit should not be granted until the final plans were either approved or disapproved.

NEW SIGN

The Commission approved a new sign for the Bonanza Home Center at 1750 S. Bascom. The sign would replace "Bonanza" with "Angels" designating the change of ownership in the firm that has recently taken place.

Assurance was given the commission by a representative of the firm that a number of zoning violations that had taken place in the past would be rectified by the new owners.

Approval was given the new development schedule submitted by Earl Doise for a warehouse at 186 Dillon. The approval was needed because Doise is purchasing the property from the previous owner.

The Commission also approved the plans submitted by William Jones for a skin and scuba diving school and a retail sales operation at 2110 Winchester Blvd. The applicant plans to construct a 3,645 square foot building on the lot.

At the request of the applicant, Vinod K. Kamboj, the Commission continued action on approval of plans to convert a residence at 880 E. Campbell into a bridal service operation. The planning staff had recommended denial because of the commercial aspect of the proposed operation.

Other conversion approvals that have been approved were for office use.

BASCOM AVE.

In a final action, the Commission continued for 90 days any action on a proposed zone change (initiated by the commission) for property owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Patrick at 973 Apricot Ave.

The zone change was started in order to have the property meet the new "Bascom Avenue policy" which specifies that commercial activities must front to Bascom.

Mrs. Patrick, who was present, explained that the swim

Editorial

Vote YES Tuesday

On Tuesday, July 25, the electorate of the Campbell Union (elementary) District will go to the polls to decide whether the district's operational tax rate should be continued at the $2.55 rate per $100 assessed valuation.

We concede technically that may not be the proper way to put it because as a result of the election on February 29, the district tax rate reverts to $1.80 on June 30. On February 29, the voters in the district turned down an increase of 50 cents which would have brought the rate to $3.05.

After the defeat on February 29, the trustees of the district authorized a new election for July 25. This time, however, instead of asking for an increase, the question is merely whether the $2.55 rate should be continued.

We support the concept of the $2.55 base rate for a variety of reasons.

We contend that the $2.55 rate has been in effect for a number of years and the school district has been operating on that basis.

Therefore, supporting the $2.55 rate, in effect, means that we feel that the district can operate at that figure and possibly the contemplated increase in assessed valuation will offset the increase in operational costs.

We are well aware that the trustees have expressed concern as to whether the $2.55 rate will do an adequate job for the district.

However, the trustees also realize, as the vote on February 29 indicated, that trying to "sell" the electorate on any increase at this time would be an exercise in futility.

The Campbell Press supports the $2.55 continuation and recommends that the electorate on Tuesday, July 25, give their approval at the polls.

But in no way do we agree with the position that the majority of the board has taken that the $2.55 rate is merely a "stop gap" measure and, during the 1972-73 fiscal year, it will be necessary to ask the voters to approve an increase.

We wholeheartedly agree with the opinion expressed by Trustee Bob King, who abstained in the vote that put the board on record for a tax increase election next year.

King maintained that the trustees should not obligate themselves at this time without having an opportunity to reassess the situation in the next fiscal year.

To us that makes sense.

While we recognize that it has been determined that a number of serious cutbacks will be necessary in the operation of the district, even if the $2.55 rate wins approval at the polls on June 25, it does not necessarily follow that a tax increase will be needed next year.

It is like "buying a pig in the poke" or predetermining a policy before all the facts have been digested.

So let's have first things first.

We concede that it is important that the electorate next Tuesday, July 25, approve the "continuation" of the present $2.55 tax rate.

We recommend a vote of approval next Tuesday.

But there are other matters to consider before we give a blanket endorsement for the calling of an election for a tax increase during the next fiscal year.

The philosophy of such an attitude, in our opinion, is faulty.

Let us see first what develops as to the operation under the $2.55 rate.

It could very well be that an increase in the assessed valuation or an increase in state or federal subventions will make it unnecessary to ask for a tax increase.

We also concede, however, that it may be proved by chapter and verse during the fiscal year that the Campbell Union (elementary) School District cannot offer the type of educational program that we all want at the $2.55 rate.

We are willing to be "sold" on that idea.

But, we think it is illogical to maintain at this time that an increase is necessary next year.

That, of course, does not alter our opinion as to the current situation.

We believe that it is logical to continue the same tax rate that has been in effect for these past years.

We urge you, therefore, to cast an affirmative vote at the polls next Tuesday.

We submit that there are still a number of problem areas in the district operation on which work is needed.

But the $2.55 rate, we feel, is necessary while we are waiting for the district to get back on the track.

George even helps us in our teaching process. He is very concerned with the youthful element in our community and in the past has hired many of our students to work on a part-time basis. This past year George hired one of our coeds who gained valuable experience in newspapering before transferring to San Jose State University.

GEORGE BELIEVES IN experience and this summer is broadening his on his vacation. I think I'll "scoop" George this time and let you know he is down in old Mexico this vacation, soaking up the sunshine and culture. So when you next see George ask him how he enjoyed Mexico City, Taxco, Guadalajara and Mazatlan and the Folklorico Ballet.

That's one event I know he didn't miss. It sure sounds like one heck of a vacation, George. Wish some of us at the college could have come along.

All kidding aside though George, you must know that you're an asset not only to us at West Valley, but also to Campbell. The success of the Campbell Press and the identity Campbell has gained through that paper can be directly attributed to the work of you and your fine staff, including Sally, Brent, Al, Carl, Erlene, Ruthie, Shirley and Tony.

THE CITY OF CAMPBELL realizes your contributions. For those of you who don't know, George's wall is dotted with only a few of the many awards he has received over the years, including a 1966 Certificate of Merit from the Campbell Police Department; a City of Campbell citation signed by former mayor Homer Hyde; an award from the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

A 1969 Campbell Jay-Cees award for outstanding journalism; a 1970 Certificate of Appreciation for invaluable services from the Campbell Fire Department; a Certificate of Appreciation from the Superior Court judges for serving on the 1971 Santa Clara Grand Jury; and a number of awards from journalism groups, such as Sigma Delta Chi and the California Newspapers Publishers Association.

And a number of Campbellites demonstrated their high regard for you last year when they feted you at a luncheon at Oak Ridge Golf Club. The affection Campbell holds for you is very real as I know you must have realized then.

Without you, Campbell would lose its identity. You are Mr. Campbell, George, and may it ever be so.

REBUTS BROWN

(A rebuttal toward John Brown, Senior Citizen and his Committee)

To the Editor of the Campbell Press:

This year I will pay $468 out of my paycheck toward Social Security tax. Because the cost of living is so high these days the average family also requires that the Mrs. has a job. This means that most families will pay up to $936 toward Social Security tax. That's a lot of money!

The reason this money is primarily needed is to help support our senior citizens. This is great! I'm not complaining; after all, we have four senior citizens in our family whom we love very much.

However, I also feel we have a very serious responsibility toward educating our children as well, Mr. Brown. They, too, deserve the same opportunity all of us have had to the best education we can possibly give them.

Please vote "YES" on maintaining our present tax rate of $2.55 on July 25. Unless we do it, it will not get done.

Thank you,
Mr. Patrick J. Sullivan

ASSESSED VALUATION

The County Assessors office has released the new assessed valuation for the district at $199,573,120, which is an increase of $12,425,480 over the current year.

The preliminary school budget for 1972-73 called for $9,611,278, based on the $1.80 rate of the then assessed valuation. The increase in assessed valuation, with overrides will yield $523,703 more than the proposed budget, and if the $2.55 rate is approved the increase in funds (your taxes) will be $2,021,502.

School enrollment has dropped in recent years by 1200 students and will drop between 200 and 500 next year.

The question before the voters is; with the continuing decline in requirements for services, should the district be allowed to spend $2,000,000 more than their proposed budget ($2.55 rate) or only $500,000 more ($1.80 rate).

It is your money; be sure to vote on July 25, 1972.

VOTE YES TUESDAY

Dear George,

As a taxpayer to our Campbell Elementary School District, may I put my two cents worth in "for" the continuance of our ten year old tax rate?

After twenty years as a Campbell resident (and countless hours in PTA, Home and School Club boards, and community activities in Campbell) I now have two boys that have graduated from Campbell schools and both attending local colleges.

Their fine background of schooling in our district could not have been provided had we people of Campbell not maintained fine schools and the best of teachers—this takes money—our money!

George, I know the people of Campbell are proud of our schools and the young citizens we are training and will vote July 25th for maintaining the present tax.

VOTE "YES"

Dear George:

It is most important that the "Maximum Tax Rate Continuation Election" be approved by the voters of the Campbell Union School District on Tuesday, July 25, 1972.

Sincerely,
Gordon Abbott

URGES VOTE

In their argument for the 50-cent tax increase back in January of this year, the Campbell School Board Members projected that the assessed value of all property this year would increase by only around 3%.

As an opponent of the tax measure, I argued that it would increase better than 5%. Well, the word is out. In a news release last week, the assessor's office reported that the assessed value of the City of Campbell increased by 14.3%.

I have obtained from the county controller's office a preliminary figure on the total assessed value within the school district. The reason for this being a preliminary is the fact that all property in the district owned by public utilities companies are assessed and the tax collected by the State Board of Equalization. These figures on these taxes will not be available until around the end of July.

Based on these figures, the total value now is $199,573,120. In the 1971-72 school year the total assessed value was $187,147,640. So we already have over or around $12½ million of new assessed value.

The present tax rate of $1.80 per hundred plus all the permissible override tax, we now have a tax rate of $3.41.8 for each one hundred dollars of valuation, or $34.18 per thousand.

I predict that when the final figures are in, the total assessed value will climb past the $200,000,000 mark. I also maintain that with this new income this school district can operate very efficiently at the present tax rate of $3.41.8, with their ever declining enrollment.

If they, the board members, will eliminate some of the highly paid dead wood such as at least part of the 20½ reading specialists, 7 counselors, 5 psychologists, 3 E.M.R.'s, 7 E. H.'s, 9 L.D.'s, and many more unnecessary personnel, and concentrate on teaching our children the fundamentals of education.

The primary reason the school board held this election on July 25 rather than on June 6 was to have as small a turnout as possible. The only people they want to vote are school personnel and PTA members. I take a different view. I think the only Democratic way to have an election is for all the voters to vote. So, I personally urge each and every voter in this school district to turn out on election day and vote regardless of how you vote!!

VOTERS DECIDE

We are in danger of turning the clock back ten years in the Campbell Elementary schools.

Voters will decide on July 25 whether the current general purpose tax of $2.55 per $100 of assessed valuation will continue, or whether it will be cut by more than one-fourth, to $1.80. This was the pre-1962 level.

A "yes" vote supports the present level of elementary school support; a "no" vote strips a major share of the existing support from the schools. This would be grossly unfair to the younger children of our community.

So concerned are the citizens of Campbell Elementary School District over this possibility, that 300 of them are now actively engaged in election work.

We urge a "yes" vote on this most important issue.

Mary Ellen James
Chairman Citizens for
Campbell Elementary Schools.

ELECTION DATA

This letter is directed to both the Campbell Union School Board Members and to all property owners within the District.

On February 29 of this year, 1972, the voters of this district rejected a 50¢ per hundred dollars of assessed valuations tax increase. In doing so, every intelligent person voting knew quite well that as of June 30, 1972 the tax rate in this district would revert back to $1.80 per hundred, which was the rate in effect prior to July, 1962.

An election was held on April 17, 1962 to increase the rate to $2.55 from July 1, 1962 to June 30, 1967, and the second continuation election was held on September 20, 1966 for the period from July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1972. Both of these elections were successful.

These dates have been confirmed by the Director of Finance of Santa Clara County. I would also like to point out that the school board that was in office in 1966 was wise enough to hold their election well in advance of the expiration date. I cannot say as much for the present school board.

They have called for an election on July 25 for a continuation of the $2.55 Tax Rate. They lost that rate on June 30. The rate at the present time is $1.80, any way you cut the cake.

They should have held the election prior to June 30 if they wanted to call it a continuation election. I maintain that at this late date they should ask for a 75¢ tax increase from $1.80 to $2.55, rather than a continuation. I believe this to be the only legal way for them to go.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Dear George:

As all of your readers know, the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will be coming to the voters this Tuesday asking to maintain the current tax rate of $2.55 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

In my opinion, this tax rate must be continued if the school district is to survive and provide decent educational opportunities for our children. That is the real question—what kind of education do we want our children to have?

There have been many problems within and without the Campbell School District in recent months, but all of those must be set aside now. They are no longer worthy of consideration, for the most part, because many of them have been solved.

The failure of this election will mean that the tax rate will revert back to $1.80. This would mean tragedy for our schools. While it is true that our taxpayers are feeling the bite of ever increasing taxes, the cutting should not be done in the school system. Education is the most important thing that a society can offer to its children.

If we decide next Tuesday that we do not want to maintain the current rate of $2.55 allowing it to revert back to the $1.80, our children will suffer, the teachers will suffer, and the community will suffer.

I urge you to vote YES on Tuesday, FOR THE CHILDREN.

Sincerely,
Rusty Hammer

County flood control-water district to hold tax rate

Minor changes would occur in the tax structure which supports the District's Water Utility Enterprise Fund.

Dropped as a utility tax would be a 46 cents assessed valuation charge levied during the past two years in Zone R-1, an area west of Lexington Reservoir. This tax financed a special study of that area's water distribution system.

Except for a diminishing cost for debt service on the former Central Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District bonds, the water utility zone tax rates would remain stable at: Water Fund, .069 cents; Zone W-4, .017 cents (formerly levied in Zone W-1), and Zone W-3, 37 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

A breakdown of the proposed expenditures with this fiscal year's figures in parenthesis shows:

Flood control: $15,652,033 ($13,658,327).

Water utility: $19,428,379 ($10,054,033).

District operations: $513,348 ($601,544).

The District's Board of Directors will review the proposed budget during board meetings prior to its submittal to the Board of Supervisors.

Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District has recommended to its Board of Directors that District tax rates should not be increased during fiscal year 1972-73.

General Manager Donald K. Currlin made the recommendation as part of the proposed 1972-73 District budget submitted to the Directors.

The proposed budget calls for expenditures of $35.6 million, compared to this fiscal year's budget of $24.3 million.

Most of the proposed $11.3 million increase over last year's budget is for the construction of water utility projects.

The largest of these projects would be construction of the Penitencia Water Treatment Plant and the Evergreen Pipeline, which would be financed with $8.85 million in proceeds from bonds sold this February and with District operating reserves.

If adopted, the proposed tax rates would continue at rates in effect for the past two years in the District's five flood control zones: Northwest and North Central, both 18 cents; Central, 17 cents; East, 23 cents, and South, 19 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

There also would be no change in the District-wide tax rate of two cents per $100 assessed valuation which is levied for administrative operations.

New freeway policy gives boost to bikeway projects

A Department of Public Works policy which will lead to the incorporation of pedestrian and bicycle pathways into freeway construction has been announced in Sacramento by Department Director James A. Moe.

Moe said his organization will work with city and county governments to develop a program, including funding, for the construction and maintenance of bicycle lanes along state highways where such separation will increase safety or the thoroughfare's capacity.

The action followed a research report which was concerned primarily with the design of bicycle paths on or near existing and future thoroughfares in California. Commissioned at a cost of $78,000, the study made by University of California is the first to bring together all pertinent information on bikeways into one reference work. Communities throughout the state have been waiting for its publication before starting bikeways in order to provide continuity along highways. Moe's directive will provide that continuity, he said.

The report was prepared by a team of 22 graduate students from UCLA and UC-Davis.

It divides bikeways into three categories:

1. Class A bicycle paths are separated from motor vehicle and pedestrian traffic by barriers or a grade and are intended for recreational travel or as transportation corridors between neighborhoods and activity centers.

2. Class B bikeways are located on city street rights-of-way either at sidewalk level or on the roads themselves. They are separated from cars and pedestrians by curbs, shrubs, ditches, or simply painted lines.

3. Class C bikeways, which now exist in metropolitan areas, are simply existing streets with bicycle signs along them.

The bikeways study covers alternative designs for the paths, what grades are tolerable for them, what traffic volume they can carry, how they can best be separated from other traffic, the types of traffic control devices needed, and the potential construction cost, Moe said.

Moe explained that all sources of funding will be considered in cooperation with local governments. Revenue could include local funds, the State Highway monies, gasoline sales tax and all available Federal funds.

He added that the nonmotorized highway user will be given full consideration in transportation planning, route planning and design for all highway projects.

Planning for the nonmotorized highway user will be done with full cooperation and coordination with appropriate Federal, State and local authorities, Moe said.

ACTION funds seniors

ACTION, the citizens service corps which includes the Peace Corps and VISTA, has awarded the Voluntary Action Center of Santa Clara County a $34,481 grant to operate a Retired Senior Volunteer Program. (RSVP)

RSVP will provide opportunities for retired persons over age 60 to serve in a variety of community sponsored programs.

During the one year grant, 200 senior citizens will be placed in volunteer services and as many as 1000 will be placed in the next five years.

They will serve without compensation, although they may be reimbursed for such expenses as transportation and meals.

Any retired person age 60 and over can become an RSVP volunteer. There are no education, income or experience requirements.

Zolita Boysen is director of the new RSVP program.

COOLING OFF -- With the temperature going up and up, what better place is there to hold an improvisation class than in the middle of the sprinklers?

These students are in the cast of "MOVE--A Theater Explosion," which continues its run at the Campbell High School cafeteria this Friday and Saturday nights, July 21 and 22 at 8 p.m.

MOVE is presented in what director George Akina calls a "basketball style auditorium--something between theater of the round and the traditional stage theater." The performers have three acting areas in the unusual set-up.

Joyce, a graduate of Camden High School, chose a chapel length veil, with a headpiece of a leaf design trimmed with matching beads.

Janice Clifton served as maid of honor, with bridesmaids Carol Isgrigg, Judy Leopard and Ginger Estes.

Jim Chansler was best man for the ceremonies, with ushers Dennis Pinckard, Dale Clifton and John Maynard.

Vows were recited at the Cambrian Park Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Vernon L. Wilcox officiated with the assistance of Rev. J. D. Wadley from Monrovia, California.

Out on a walk . . . . . .

by Barry Green

In common with many other people who exercise by walking in Vasona Park, I have often wished the path extended all around the lake. It is never as pleasurable to have to retrace one's steps.

A few days ago, in the vicinity of the little bridge near the miniature railroad station, I had an interesting encounter with an elderly man who was heading in the same direction as I was. In fact, I caught up with him, despite the fact that he was doing better than four miles an hour; but many years ago I used to participate in walking races, and anything less than five miles an hour exhausts me. As I prepared to pass him he spoke to me, so I slowed slightly and we conversed.

Later, as I prepared tc move on, I chanced to say: "It's too bad we can't walk all around the lake."

"Oh, we can," he assured me. "I'm the only one who does it, but I do it all the time!"

He matched his speed to mine, studying me doubtfully. At last he made up his mind I was equal to it, for he said: "Come on, I'll show you."

As we walked, Leo Voroshilov—seventy-five years old, at one time a Russian citizen, born in the Ural Mountain region, talked. He'd walked the Appalachian Trail—not all 2,000 miles or so—being alone, he'd grown tired of his own company after 1200 miles.

He'd done long walks in Death Valley many times, and he'd walked up Mount Whitney three or four times—after walking two hundred miles to get there. I began to wonder if I was getting out of my class.

By this time we were picking our way across concrete blocks below the dam. There was a lot of slippery green weed. It wasn't hard to understand why Leo was the only one who walked all around the lake. As we scrambled up the loose gravel on the other side, I wondered if I should tell my other walking friends that it was possible to get right around the lake. Perhaps it wouldn't be wise. After all, most of them are younger than I am...I'm not sure they could make it.

CELEBRATION --- Doris and Vernon Padgett toast their 25 years together in a surprise reception held at their 3753 Delgado Court residence.

Celebrates 25 years

The silver wedding anniversary of Vernon and Doris Padgett was celebrated with a surprise reception attended by 70 relatives and friends at their Delgado Court home.

The reception was given by their three sons and their wives, Michael and Judy Padgett, Vernon and Teresa Padgett, and Gary Padgett.

The Padgetts also commemorated their 25 years by repeating their vows at the same church in which they were originally wedded, the First United Methodist Church of Reno, Nevada.

A vacation in Hawaii is on the Padgett's calendar for fall.

STARVING RICH

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has reported that the percentage of households that met or exceeded the department's definition of a good diet dropped from 60 to 50 per cent between 1955 to 1965. Nine per cent of families with incomes over $10,000 had diets rated poor.

Lamb and fruit makes a brunch

Late Sunday brunches are a natural for the summer when entertaining is relaxed---and active people almost forget to eat.

Bananas will add zest to this lamb chop recipe, which would be good with in-season specialties.

Asparagus spears, an orange garnish and strawberry shortcake dress up the meal.

BROILED LAMB CHOPS WITH BANANAS

Six sirloin lamb chops; Salt and pepper; Six firm bananas; Lemon juice; Melted butter or margarine; Eighteen vanilla wafers, finely crushed; Three tablespoons sugar; One and one-half teaspoons cinnamon.

Slash edges of fat on chops to prevent curling. Place on broiling rack three inches from heat source.

Broil five minutes per side for medium doneness or six minutes per side for well done. Season with salt and pepper before serving.

Peel bananas and split lengthwise. Brush with lemon juice and then with butter.

Roll bananas in mixture of vanilla wafers, sugar and cinnamon. Broil with lamb chops during last five to six minutes of cooking time.

Garnish with fresh orange slices or segments for serving. Makes six servings.

WEST VALLEY COLLEGE DISTRICT—VOTE ON JULY 25

Drum majors march to victory

SALUTE---Bill Branson salutes Perry Rogers. Perry, a student at California State University at San Jose, is head of the Campbell drum major training program.

by Tony Dirksen

Those half time show kids with the flashy suits and the fancy batons are busy again.

Under the direction of Perry Rogers, 16 students from local schools are learning the subtleties of becoming drum majors.

Perry, a former Campbell High School student and California drum major champion of 1969, says that a good drum major has to create an aura of both discipline and fun.

"The drum major takes total command," he says. "That's why it's so hard for a guy in high school to be a good drum major. He has to know when to command and know what to do with 107 people. He has to know when to command and when to let up."

Perry in command is different than Perry on the street. "Off the field, you're a regular Joe," he says.

But in command of these future drum majors, Perry is the symbol of total authority. Perry orders them right, and they move right. He gives one student a mean look and he cringes in fear of what he might have done wrong. But they obey his orders, and they learn.

But strict commands alone are not enough. "The drum major has to know the personality of his group," he explains. "Sometimes he'll iust pop a joke so they'll laugh."

If he is too strict, the drum major may face a total breakdown of discipline. "A girl may start crying, the group may quit obeying you," he explains.

A drum major has to have the skills of a symphony conductor -- and more. "He has to be a good musician, able to lead the group musically. He has to have good coordination and know his spread of people," Perry says.

And that's not all. "He has to have command in the voice - the voice can't ask questions. He has to be able to keep the same pace, the same stride length, be willing to work at least 25 hours a week on the group routines, and have the confidence to handle the group in emergencies."

Perry himself faced an emergency situation a few years back. In a game against a local school, Perry informed the coach of the opposition that he was pushing the band across the field at 3:30. When that magic hour arrived, the opposing team was still scrimmaging. Perry led the band out anyway.

"The coach came running out to the field and started pushing me down. I just kept standing up to attention again. You can't shrink at a time like that. In the end, I got the people to laugh at him." Perry explains that a different action on his part could have brought about a brawl between the band and the football team.

In the state competition for drum majors, each student gets only one chance to do his routine. They are judged on a scale of 100 points, but scoring is always tight. One mistake, and the drum major can be out of the competition.

Perry thinks his six-week camp will give drum majors the chance to "get over all their nerves here, and take control of their groups when the year begins."

In the past, most of these students would have gone to one week camps held at various universities. Perry believes his camp gives the students more time to gain confidence.

His two advanced students, Bill Branson of Campbell High and Debbie Wilson of Prospect both attended a camp last week at UC Santa Barbara. With more than 400 drum majors in competition, Bill received a first place award in show and a third runner-up in military routine; Debbie took second in show and second in the drill down.

A good year of half time shows seems to be coming for local half time watchers.

FIRST PLACE---Bill Branson, drum major at Campbell High School, holds his first place trophy for show with the baton that brought him victory. Bill won in competition at the University of California at Santa Barbara against more than 400 students.

WINNER---Debbie Wilson of Prospect High showing the form that won her a second in show and a second in the drill down at the University of California at Santa Barbara one-week camp.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON --- It was 111 degrees outside, but this faithful group of drum majors and flag girls arrived at Campbell High School to practice anyway.

Employer tax deadlines near

Monday, July 31, is the deadline for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns and Report of Personal Income Tax Withheld for the second quarter of 1972, the State Department of Human Resources Development said today.

Employers who fail to file wage reports and pay second quarter taxes on or before July 31 will reduce their chances of receiving a lower rate next year. It is not possible to use payments made after July 31 in computing employer tax rates. In addition, penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline.

Employers who need help in preparing their returns and wage reports may contact anyone in the San Jose Employment Tax Field Office at 906 Ruff Drive in San Jose.

Students having some prior knowledge of the Japanese language will be examined and placed in a class commensurate with their ability.

Additional information concerning the school may be obtained by inquiry to the school address to P.O. Box 952, Campbell, California.

Sweeney leads adult ed council

Ben Sweeney, dean of instruction for the evening and summer session at San Jose City College, and a resident of Campbell has been named 1972-73 chairman of a newly formed coordinating council for adult education in central Santa Clara County.

The council, one of the first to be formed in the state, was created as a result of a 1971 bill by Senator Alfred Alquist. It seeks to save time and money by coordinating functions of high school and community college adult education programs.

"I am proud that my own county is a leader in cooperative adult education planning," Alquist said when contacted at his office. "Learning is a lifelong need and should be a lifelong opportunity. This council will help provide that opportunity by stretching tax dollars."

Sweeney has been meeting in preliminary sessions with representatives from West Valley College, Metropolitan Adult Education Program and the Los Gatos Joint Union High School Adult Education Program to establish the council.

The first actions of the council have been coordination of courses held in the central county and planning use of school facilities to provide comprehensive community education programs.

Other members of the council are William H. Deal, dean of continuing education, and Gary Hubbard, community services assistant, of West Valley College; Larry Arnerich, director of community services, San Jose City College; Lee Clark, director of adult education, and Joe Bellenger, assistant superintendent of adult and vocational education, Metropolitan Adult Education Program; and William Cunningham, director of adult education, Los Gatos Joint Union High School District.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The unofficial summer league is running into some of the same problems that the Northern California Darts Assn. had during the spring season.

Several teams are having trouble fielding a full team and a couple of teams have withdrawn from competition. Summer league secretary Willy Buhl is now in the process of rescheduling the league.

The summer league was formed to acquaint new sponsors and players to our game. It also gives regular players a place to play and keep up their proficiency. The newer players have a chance to learn from some of the "old pros."

This is the way I learned, shooting against some of the best darters in the area. Even though we were competing against each other, they would stand behind me and tell me what I was doing wrong and would give me the out combinations. All these things help improve your game.

FALL SEASON

Now is the time to start thinking of joining a team for the Fall season. The exact date for the start of competition hasn't been set yet, but it usually is the second week of September.

Southern Cal is already setting its leagues. They play three nights a week down there. They run a singles league, similar to ours, on Monday nights with a mixed doubles league on Wednesday nights. Their regular competition is an eight man team on Friday nights. Here, they play four sets of doubles and one 1001 team game, a lot of darts for the week.

Board unravels contract dispute at WV

Nicholson—Brown Inc., of Santa Clara, and several of their sub-contractors brought their dispute to West Valley College trustees at a recent meeting.

Nicholson—Brown, general contractors for the physical education complex at Saratoga, appeared before the board requesting the board allow substitutions in the subcontractors they had listed for the project.

During the hearing Norman F. Brown, partner and executive vice-president of Nicholson—Brown, told the board that in the last minute rush to finalize the bid, errors had been made in listing companies with their respective bids.

After listening to various representatives for more than two hours, the board determined there was a clerical error and ordered that Ashby Metals be substituted for Schrader Iron Works and Vargas Metals, that Santora Electric be substituted for Cupertino Electric, and that Anytime Roofing be substituted for California Roofing.

The substitutions will not change the original bid price for the building of $2,357,510. Any additional costs will be absorbed by Nicholson—Brown.

In other action the governing board;

1. Reaffirmed an agreement with the San Jose City College to share facilities at the proposed Evergreen and Mission Colleges through the exchange of students. This is the first such agreement in the state of California whereby two community colleges have agreed to such a sharing. The agreement was originally adopted Jan. 15, 1970.

2. Established an Adult Evening College as part of the college's continuing education program. All classes held after 4:30 p.m., off campus or on Saturdays will be administered by the Adult Evening College, Continuing Education division.

3. Endorsed the $160 million community college bond measure on the November ballot. Funds generated from these bonds will be used as state funds to match local district monies for the construction of community college instructional facilities over the next four years.

4. Hired Mrs. Margaret Schoenhair as an anthropology instructor for 1972-73.

5. Approved 26 classes to be offered under the Adult Evening College this fall including parapsychology, writing for publication, psychocybernetics, self defense for women, pre-ski exercise clinic, and auto mechanics for the consumer.

6. Accepted the classified employees classification and salary study recently completed by the Cooperative Personnel Services of the State Personnel Board.

7. Took the following personnel actions: extended the leave of absence for Mrs. Marcella Norwood through Dec. 31, 1972; reassigned Mrs. Betty Tusup, assistant dean of instruction to a counseling position at her request; and accepted the resignations of Mrs. Pat Koester, medical secretary, effective July 21, and Jim Harmon, custodian, effective July 13.

8. Adjourned the meeting in memory of R.V. Garrod, Saratoga resident and original member of the Sunsweet Growers Association, who passed away July 2, and Peter B. Smith, English instructor at West Valley, who died suddenly June 29.

YOUTH BAND CONCERT---Thursday evening from 7 to 8:30 p.m. the Santa Clara Valley Youth Band will again perform in the Gran Plaza of the PruneYard Shopping Center, Bascom and Campbell Avenue, at no charge. The band will continue to perform at the PruneYard during the coming months. A fund has been set up by the Merchants Association to use for scholarships for the young musicians.

SS benefit increase is automatic

Social Security beneficiaries need not apply for the 20% benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1.

The Social Security district manager said that all beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically. The increase is effective beginning with payments for the month of September.

The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162, for a retired couple from $224 to $271.

A widowed mother with two children will receive an average Social Security benefit of about $386, up from $322.

For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payment will be $354, increased from $295.

The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over who are not insured for regular Social Security case benefits will also be increased by 20%, from $48.30 to $58.00 for an individual and from $72.50 to $87.00 for a couple.

O'Connor doc develops new cancer test

An O'Connor Hospital researcher has refined a test for cancer of the liver reported to be 40 times more sensitive than previously used methods.

Dr. Jorge Franco, director of the hospital's Department of Nuclear Medicine, announced his findings recently at a conference held in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

The lab test is a refinement of previously used methods for the diagnosis of cancer of the liver and can be done in a fraction of the time. The old method took an average of three to five days, while the new procedure is completed in about 30 minutes.

While the test is not foolproof, it is accurate in about 80 per cent of the cases, according to Dr. Franco. The old test was 40 per cent accurate.

The new test has been used at O'Connor Hospital for the past two years and is now becoming more widely accepted and used by many physicians in the United States.

Dr. Franco's research findings have been published in the American Journal of Clinical Pathology (Feb. 1972) and will also be featured in the Journal of Nuclear Medicine in August, 1972.

Students offer "Carousel"

"Carousel," often regarded to be one of the great musical plays of American theatrical history, will be offered by Campbell Union High School District students on July 26, 27, 28 and 29 at 8 p.m.

The play is written by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, who also gave the theater "Oklahoma!," "South Pacific," "The King and I," and many other hits.

"Carousel" is the story of a ne'er-do-well's marriage with a gentle factory girl whom he fails in every possible way except to illuminate her life completely.

Tom Gabbard will have this role of the roistering barker of an amusement park, whose swagger is tamed by the sweetness of Anne Canfield.

Originally the story was a play by Ferenc Molnar, called "Liliom," produced in Europe in 1909, and by the Theater Guild in New York in 1921, about a braggart barker of an amusement park in Budapest and a quiet servant-girl.

Rodgers and Hammerstein transformed this story to a New England village in the eighteen-eighties, and made the girl who caught the love of the flamboyant barker into a millhand. When translated into "Carousel," the European story became as American as apple pie.

Time Magazine said of the songs that "Rodgers has swathed the play in one of his most velvety scores. More than a succession of tunes, the music helps interpret the story; it has operatic climaxes, choral fullness, choreographic lilt. Real magic lies in these tunes." Among the featured numbers are "If I Loved You," and "June is Bustin' Out All Over."

The CUHSD cast will also include Cindy McKay, Robbi Thornburg, Marcia Henry, Mike Simpson, Alden Skinner, Cecile LaCara and Steve De-Ornellas.

UF CAMPBELL CHAIRMAN ---Norman Johnson, plant manager of Deluxe Check Printers, has been selected chairman of the 1972 United Fund Campaign in Campbell.

Campbell, a consistent leader in support of U. F. among communities in the area, is being asked for renewed support of this year's growing U.F. community service program.

Johnson and other volunteers are hopeful the $9,164 mark of 1971 will end with an even greater increase in 1972.

PG&E offers saving hints electrically

The summer season places demands on a home's electric system but homeowners can take steps to make sure their kilowatt-hours are used efficiently, according to W. B. Stephens, Jr., manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Los Gatos office.

"Good insulation properly applied is the main step most homeowners can take if any form of air conditioning equipment is operating," he says. "Insulation pays dividends in both summer and winter."

He also suggests that homeowners:

* Make sure that air conditioning equipment is not undersized or oversized.

*Take advantage of built-in "coolers" such as closed drapes or shades on the sunny side of the house, a natural-draft or power-operated attic ventilator, and a kitchen exhaust fan that removes excess heat during cooking.

*Plant trees and shrubs as sun screens.

*Reduce cool air losses in summer and hold more heat inside during the winter with thermal glass windows.

*Weatherstrip windows and doors.

If air conditioning units are equipped with filters, the filter should be inspected frequently and cleaned or replaced whenever necessary.

An awning over a room air conditioner often helps. Mr. Stephens recommends the vented type.

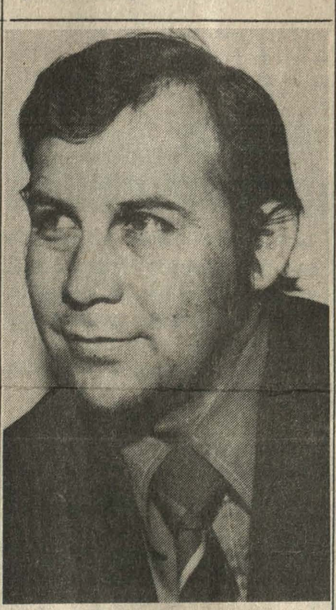
If you should install a new air conditioner, or an additional one, be sure to contact PG&E to be certain your electric requirements can be met on time.

A full load should be accumulated before appliances like the washer and dishwasher are used, he suggests. This simple step will save both electricity and water, plus the energy that heats the water.

Complete meals can be broiled in the oven with a bit of advance planning. Broiling uses less energy than roasting. A steam heat method of cooking is an effective way to get the most out of a range top where about 80 per cent of the cooking occurs. This also preserves the vitamins and minerals in the food.

Householders who have unused freezer space can prepare extra dishes or duplicate recipes for future use with one baking or cooking. An up-to-date inventory of the items in the freezer will minimize the time the freezer door must be kept open.

Another way to improve efficiency of equipment is to be sure it's in proper working order. Strange noises in an air conditioning compressor should be investigated by a qualified serviceman before a breakdown occurs, the PG&E manager says.



NEW POSITION---Frank Escobar, Jr., 33, has resigned as Model Cities deputy director to become project director of the county's Public Services Careers program. He replaces Robert Cervantes, who recently took a leave of absence to complete study for a doctorate at the University of California-Santa Cruz.

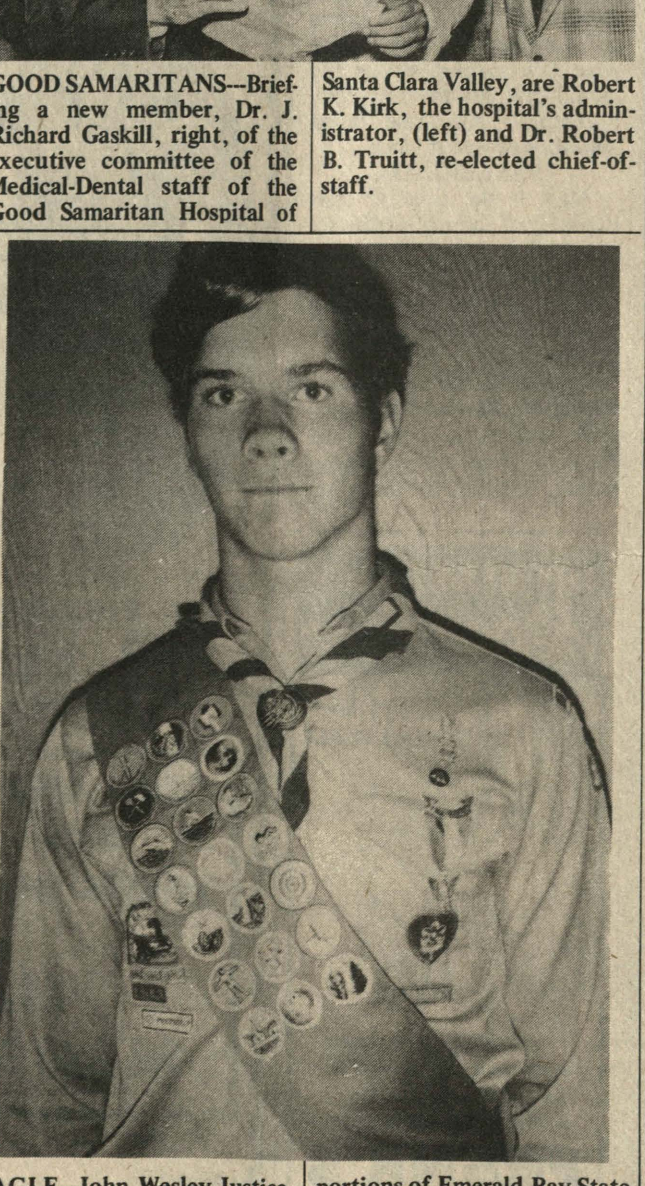
The "careers" program operated under a $437,000 federal grant and there are 90-100 "public service aides" enrolled in the program working in various county departments. He is a resident of the Oak Grove area in south San Jose. The new job carries a salary range of $18,240 to $22,176 a year.

MISS COUNTY

The Miss Santa Clara County Pageant will be held on July 22 at 8 p.m. in Fiesta Hall at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds. Admission is $2.50.

"Once Upon a Dream," will be the theme as 11 finalists compete.

GOOD SAMARITANS---Briefing a new member, Dr. J. Richard Gaskill, right, of the executive committee of the Medical-Dental staff of the Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley, are Robert K. Kirk, the hospital's administrator, (left) and Dr. Robert B. Truitt, re-elected chief-of-staff.



EAGLE---John Wesley Justice has been awarded the rank of Eagle Scout.

At 16-years-old, John organized a scuba-diving and skin-diving group to clean up portions of Emerald Bay State Park at Lake Tahoe. Some of the debris that was uncovered or unearthed dated back to the turn of the century.
